

Renewable Energy and Land Planning Towards Climate Society

● ● ● Wed 10 May 2023

14:00-15:00 (TST)/ 6:00-7:00 am (UTC)

This session will present a land-planning development approach to climate concerns, with Taiwan and Fiji offering practical examples. The goal is to promote participation from the bottom up, enabling local communities to contribute to the design of more inclusive renewable energy facilities and climate solutions.
